Man — The Paradox

What is man? As the few of us who try, often in vain, to find a simple, clear-cut answer to this question stumble about asking other questions, we find that the search itself is the most challenging part of the entire undertaking. We see that there is no single answer; the individual aspects of our humanity are as similar — and as diverse — as we ourselves are. Part of this idea is expressed in the ancient Chinese theory of the yin yang, depicted here and on the cover of the 1978 Tempus Fugit. The yin yang is symbolic of the harmony and balance between all opposing forces such as good and bad, right and wrong, or night and day. We feel it is also a symbol of humanity itself — this wonderful scheme of which we are all a part but often fail to understand. Through exploration an understanding is reached and our humanity takes on new meaning.

Our Humanity Is Multifaceted . . .

One of the most obvious things that makes us vastly different from the other creatures populating the earth is our ability to think, to use our brains for more than merely the switchboard for our biological processes. We do not have to blankly accept the problems with which we are faced because we have the ability to organize workable solutions to our dilemmas. We can, by using our powers of reason and logic, take our world and improve upon it. We can construct a society for ourselves in which our needs as individuals are met while we are still able to function harmoniously as a group. We can use our thought processes to make valid predictions, thereby avoiding some problems before they occur.

Our ability to think has landed us in the midst of a deluge of technological and scientific advancement. Through these channels, we have been able to learn great secrets hidden in the world beyond the scope of our own senses. But it is when we ponder the worlds inside ourselves, when we seek to find a sense of timelessness amongst the changes, that we become aware of a spirit that lives within every man, a spirit that gives us some insight into the heart of anyone we should chance to meet.

In Us Is Something Higher . . .

Bobby!
 It's has been nice
 this year. (sometime)
 I'm not sorry for the buses we had because they were all little one to one. I hope in the future you & me can get together and have so much laugh and if you ever need a friend to talk to remember you can always count on me.

Love ya.
 Vicki
 Longley

There is a definite need in man to be loved, and to give love, but the word itself avoids concrete definition. It has countless forms — we love our family, we love our friends, we love our pets — yet the feelings involved are totally different in each case. We care, whether directly or indirectly, about numbers of things, but the most perfect form of love is when giving of yourself is all that is necessary for your own happiness. Though we do bestow our love on family and friends, if we are lucky enough to find the one other person who fills a void in us not filled by relatives or companions, it occupies our minds constantly, refusing to be ignored. The gift we receive from loving another so completely, even if our love is unrequited, is seeing a little of that person in everything that touches our lives. We become aware of beautiful dimensions in time-worn routines that we had never truly appreciated. In the tradition of the great poets (and undoubtedly, some bad ones), the song of the birds in the morning is sweeter, the feel of the breeze softer than we had ever imagined possible.

We Are Unique Individuals . . .

Is there any greater gift than our ability to transcend the everyday life and arrive in a place where everything, anything, is possible? Few of us are brave enough or willing enough to spread the wings of imagination lying folded in each of us in flights of fantasy which take us to this special nook in our minds.

The imagination leads from dreams to reality as our minds wonder and modify. It is affected by our thoughts and hopes and those of others. One of the great joys of being the creatures we are is our ability to share the bonds of imagination, enriching and developing the wonders of an unknown world — the mind.

We Relate To One Another With Empathy . . .

To distinguish between right and wrong, good and bad, virtue and evil, is often a difficult thing. Our society's standards, morals, achievements, and failures have blended into a collective conscience to produce a nation of people with the same basic moral behavior, which has changed but little since the Ten Commandments were first created.

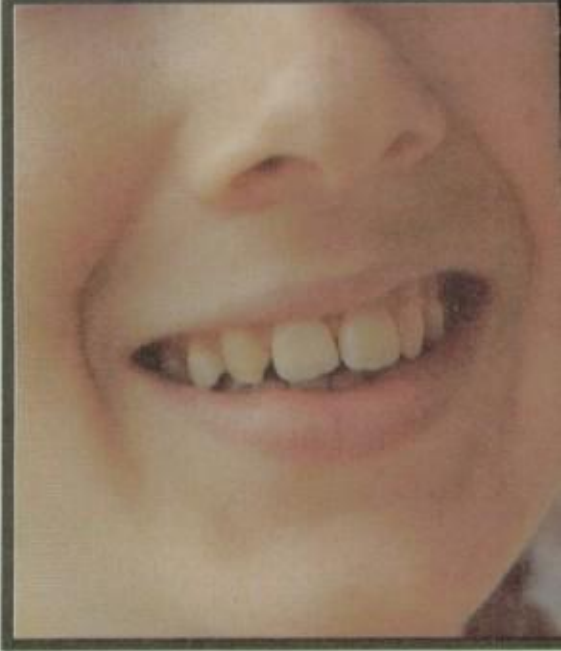

Human behavior is so affected by this collective conscience that our decisions about right and wrong seem to be already decided; in fact, it seems that there are no real decisions to be made. We find a deeper understanding of our fellow humans in the realization that their decisions were also ours.

We do vary greatly, however, in the role that we let our consciences play in our lives. Many of us always try to relate to others in a fair and just manner, while some are able to set aside their scruples and seek only to gratify themselves, disregarding whomever they may hurt along the way. But in the end, they also suffer from their callousness, for by not being aware of the humanity of others, they are burning away their own humanity, and sacrificing something irreplaceable.

We See A Series Of Contradictions . . .

We have voices with which to sing and speak, but we also have a voice with which to laugh. The bond of laughter is so flexible and pliant that it adjusts to any situation. With so many shades of meaning left to each individual to interpret, and one sound alone to voice them all, laughter can be misunderstood. A subtle, perhaps obscure inflection is all that differentiates between a laugh with or a laugh at someone.

But all types of laughter are an appreciation, a sharing of corresponding thoughts. Regardless of one's tastes in humor, in what is "funny," there are others who share the same tastes. All the world is bound 'round by laughter.

Our humanity — what makes us what we are — is multifaceted, but when we ponder these gifts which have been given to us, we see sides of ourselves that we had perhaps never realized were there. We find that we are as varied as colors in a spectrum, yet as similar as an object and its reflection. While we share certain needs with thousands of other species, in us is something higher that gives each of us the ability to reason, to love, to imagine, to comprehend what is right and wrong, and to laugh. Yet we do have very distinct personalities that separate us into unique individuals; we share a multitude of qualities that creates a bond between all of us — a bond that forms a base from which we are able to relate to one another with empathy. And through these relationships we see a series of contradictions: man — the builder, man — the ravager; man — the dreamer, man — the realist: man — the paradox.

Years Of Dedication Lead To An Inevitable Decision

Man — the listener, counselor, understander and helper. These are the requirements decided upon by the senior staff of the 1978 Tempus Fugit as the criteria for its dedicatee. After much deliberation, we finally realized, in a flash, that there was no need for such a mind-racking dilemma — that there was only one choice.

As seniors of '78, and also as the last senior class of Rockdale County to graduate as a whole, we chose to dedicate the 1978 Tempus Fugit to a gentleman who has stuck by us for four years in our struggles and in our victories. He has always been available and approachable whenever we needed a concerned and helpful hand. So, in the light of much appreciation from the Class of 1978, we the senior staff proudly dedicate our 1978 Tempus Fugit to Mr. James C. Fain.

Man — The Sudden Adult

Never in our brief sojourns on earth are we faced with so many momentous decisions as we are in this, our final year of high school. For some the future is still a misty blur, while others have taken the first tentative steps toward independence. The pressures of deciding on a college or a job are all too real, and to keep one's equilibrium it is necessary to find a safe outlet for this tension. The outlets take many different forms — clowning in the senior courtyard, taking part in a sport, skipping school. The struggle to get through the year without going crazy from impatience is climaxed by Graduation Night — a time of joy and sorrow when all the memories of past love and laughter come rushing back, and for one moment the past, present and future seem as one. After this night we cannot truly be children, but must move on to the new world of adulthood. We will carry with us the best of our past and the hopes for our future.

Man — The Curious

Who seeks to explore worlds past his own experiences, to delve into the mystery of his environment, to better himself and increase his understanding, "The road of knowledge" is a trek all men venture upon, and a trek that is impossible to make alone. Ever there must be hands to guide, to teach, and to support through failure. The images of these hands may be forgotten; the names of their possessors may vanish like a wisp of smoke caught in the breeze, but the wisdom they share and the examples they set become bound up in the souls of their pupils, forevermore inseparable.

Man — The Giver of Love, Maker of Friends

In his companions, he is able to see that in himself which needs improving; in his companions, he is able to see that which he could be. An understanding unlike any other develops between friends, and acceptance grows through their love. The key to friendship is sharing; sharing dreams, sharing fears, sharing experiences — all serve to bind people close together. A special love grows when the end of childhood is shared; through transient times and countless fluctuations in attitudes, a camaraderie forms which will never again be equalled.

Krispy Kreme With Class

Throughout the years at RCHS, doughnuts (the eternal Jr.-Sr. prom fund raiser) have come to symbolize juniors. For this year's junior class, Krispy Kremes have a special meaning. (I already sold 20 boxes! Haven't I done enough?) They were handicapped by their number, yet still sold more than last year. They sponsored a disastrous "Battle of the Bands" (one band didn't show, and another lost $5000 worth of equipment). All the while the electricity flickered off and on. The result was worth the toil in the end, though, since they arranged for the winning combination of Choice and the Peachtree Plaza ballroom for the Jr.-Sr. Prom. Between the PSAT (I just don't see how they figure these percentiles), ordering Senior rings (I can't decide if I want onyx or ruby), and a memorable prom, the class of 1979 carried on many traditions while creating many new ones.

Sophs Have Spirit

They were no longer new, but not considered old hands, either. The sophomore year has always been an "in between" one at RCHS. This year's sophomores did all they could to alleviate the malady, though, by building a "Hang LaGrange" float for homecoming (What do you mean, we need a class sponsor?) Also to their credit, they managed to break up the monopoly on the spirit stick by winning it three times at pep rallies. (Ha! Those seniors aren't so great after all.)

Take One Giant Step

High school — yet another goal to conquer. The loneliness of being at the bottom was overshadowed by the feeling of pride at having taken a giant step towards graduation. (The tall ones are the Seniors . . . and the Juniors . . . and the Sophomores). Between getting trampled once every hour in the halls, growing accustomed to cafeteria food, learning locker combinations, and finding out the Senior Courtyard is only for Seniors the hard way, the class of '81 had a lot to adapt to, but they did it.

Man — The Lover of Beauty

The search for that which is soothing to the senses occupies a great portion of man's time, and his desire to surround himself with pleasure has caused the world as we know it to be filled with great works of art and literature. His imagination sprang to the rescue in times of desolation when all around seemed cold, cruel, and ugly and enabled him to create innumerable masterpieces to satisfy every craving of the aesthete. He reached into his mind when beauty could not be found, but in truth, beauty is everywhere, in the glint of the sun after a rain, in the silent shimmering of the stars on a night when the stretch of the sky seems never ending. And beauty can be found in the thousands of faces of man himself, some typifying wisdom and experience; others the freshness and hope that is the pulse of youth, inevitably fleeting indescribably precious.

Man — The Competitor

Vying not only for the most points in a game or a region championship, but striving to better himself, to reach a potential that often seems infinitely far away. Whether working as part of a team or as an individual, the athletes personify the challenge every man faces: "Do I dare try my best?" Even after strenuous practices and records that do not inspire awe, they can feel content that, if the season were not victorious, it was at least worthwhile. They did try to achieve something they did not possess in the beginning: the knowledge that their condition is not static and a sense of the role of justice in any competition. Not a majority of opponents defeated, but the number of goals accomplished creates a winning season.

Tick-Tock, Can't Stop The Cheerleaders

After a fun week at the University of Georgia for camp, the VARSITY CHEERLEADERS were prepared for a year of cheering the athletes on to victory. (Too bad things didn't do so well during football season.) Yet, they still managed to rouse school spirit at Pep Rallies (Now we want the Juniors and the Sophomores to yell, and then the Freshmen and the Seniors.) which often featured some very unique attractions (who could forget the blindfolded baby-food-eating contest?) They were familiar sights around the school, lugging cumbersome boxes of Turtles. (Please buy one, they're only 25¢ and my arms are breaking.) And, a new system was put into effect, with all twelve cheering at football games and home basketball games, and two sets of six alternating at away basketball games. After a lot of effort and determination, the cheerleaders helped create a year that really tick-tocked.

OFFICERS: Football Captain, Melaine Purcell; Basketball Captain, Michelle Kiser; Secretary, Andi Clay; Treasurer, Keeli Simpson

The Button Pushers

Being a B-TEAM CHEERLEADER is promoting spirit, and selling everything from wrapping paper to M&M's. Trying to form an H-formation (Miss Hatcher, Why does the annual staff want us in an H?) proved a formidable task even for them. From having to decide between 283 uniforms, (Really, I think I'd just as soon cheer in Cut-offs.) to decorating the football field (No, black and red glitter would be a little too gaudy) to pushing buttons (Sorry, we don't have any 'I like Ike's', but we've got some terrific "Rockdale Bulldogs" that would look just right on your shirt) the cheerleaders had a great year.

Girls Battle The Rain

The MAJORETTES spent a lot of time and hard work (ad Alberto VO-5) trying to present a perfect show to the half-time audiences at football games. But, as they soon learned, perfect twirling is difficult to do in the middle of a cloudburst. Between practicing long hours with the band, (ad consistently being late) and trying to appease Mr. Williams with a cake before the last game (ad the rain) the 1977 football season was a mixture of yells of frustration, Betty Crocker Ready to Spread Frosting, and sticky hair.

Team Takes Trophy At UGA

The members of the DRILL TEAM were familiar performers at pep rallies and at halftime shows during football and basketball games (they also performed at the local Hardee's, doing an impromptu can-can before an audience of amazed diners). Sponsoring both a Chick-fil-a supper and a spaghetti dinner, they also served up lots of spirit wherever they went (including red lights, where they were seen to run through an enthusiastic Chinese fire drill). At the drill team camp held at the University of Georgia, they pranced away with the spirit pompom, a superior evaluation trophy, and the sweepstakes trophy (and a police warning for riding around the university with sixteen people in a jeep). All in all, an exciting year was the reward for their hard work.

Corps Inspire At Halftime

Compressed ranks were only part of the problems facing the FLAG AND RIFLE CORPS. Despite the fact that they practiced rigorously (with and without the band), the task of coordinating the routines became a tedious process, and even then, they did not get to march at every football game. The reasons varied: the weather was uncooperative, or the show of the band and the auxiliary units as a whole was not up to par. Yet — when they did take the field at half time — the frustrated efforts and the “wasted” practices paid off in a presentation that was inspiring because of the obvious determination of its participants.

50% Teamwork

Finishing the long, hard season with a 16-7 record, our bulldogs showed what real determination was. They won 12 of their 16 regular season games, and then went on to win region by coming from behind and scoring 6 runs in the last inning to beat North Clayton 9-8.

Bulldogs Fight Way To State

In the state tournament, the Bulldogs played Sequoia. At the end of the first two games, each team had a victory to its good. Sequoia beat our dogs after a strong, 9-inning effort, but we can all be proud of the way they represented our school last year.

Outstanding Effort

With a beginning coach and a budding track program, the 1977 track team showed real RCHS spirit and determination by ending the season with a 6-4 record. All the men put forth tremendous effort. Commended for improvement and achievement were Jerry Walden, who placed 2nd in 6AAA 330 Intermediate hurdle; Charles Potts, outstanding distance; Eddie Hull, outstanding sprinter; and Lee Alliston, outstanding field.

Team Takes 2nd In Region

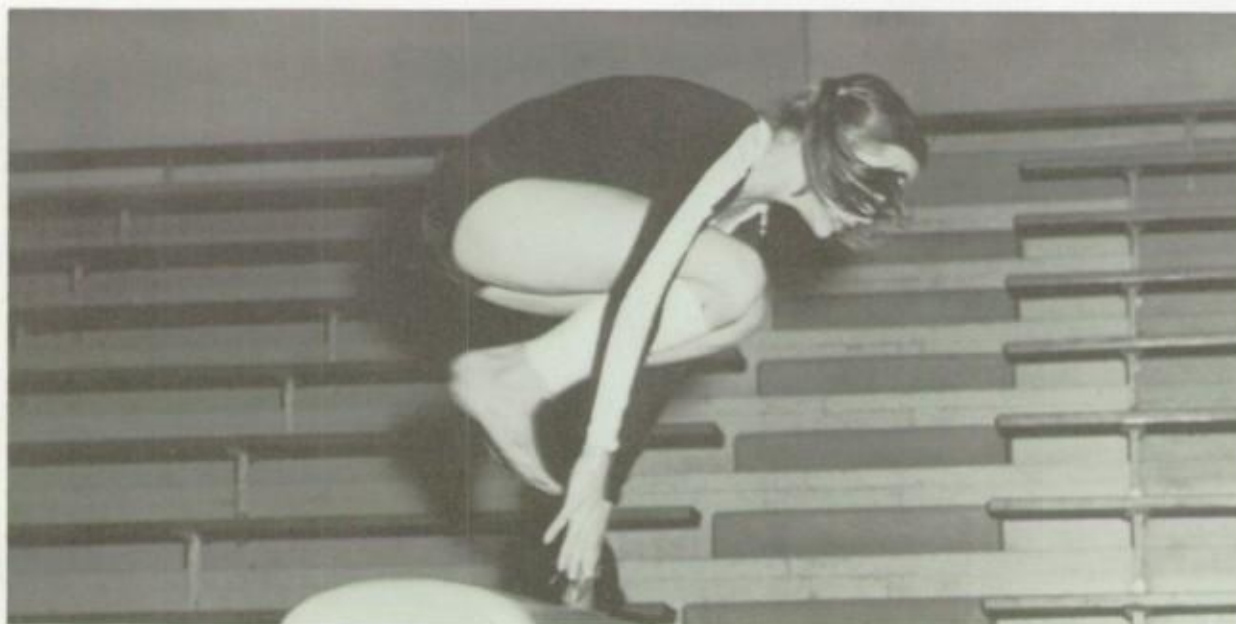

Ceaseless running makes a good cross-country runner. With a national boom in jogging comes an increased popularity of cross country at RCHS. Whether to achieve the championship, stay in shape or simply for the fun and fellowship of running, cross country is a sport open to anyone.

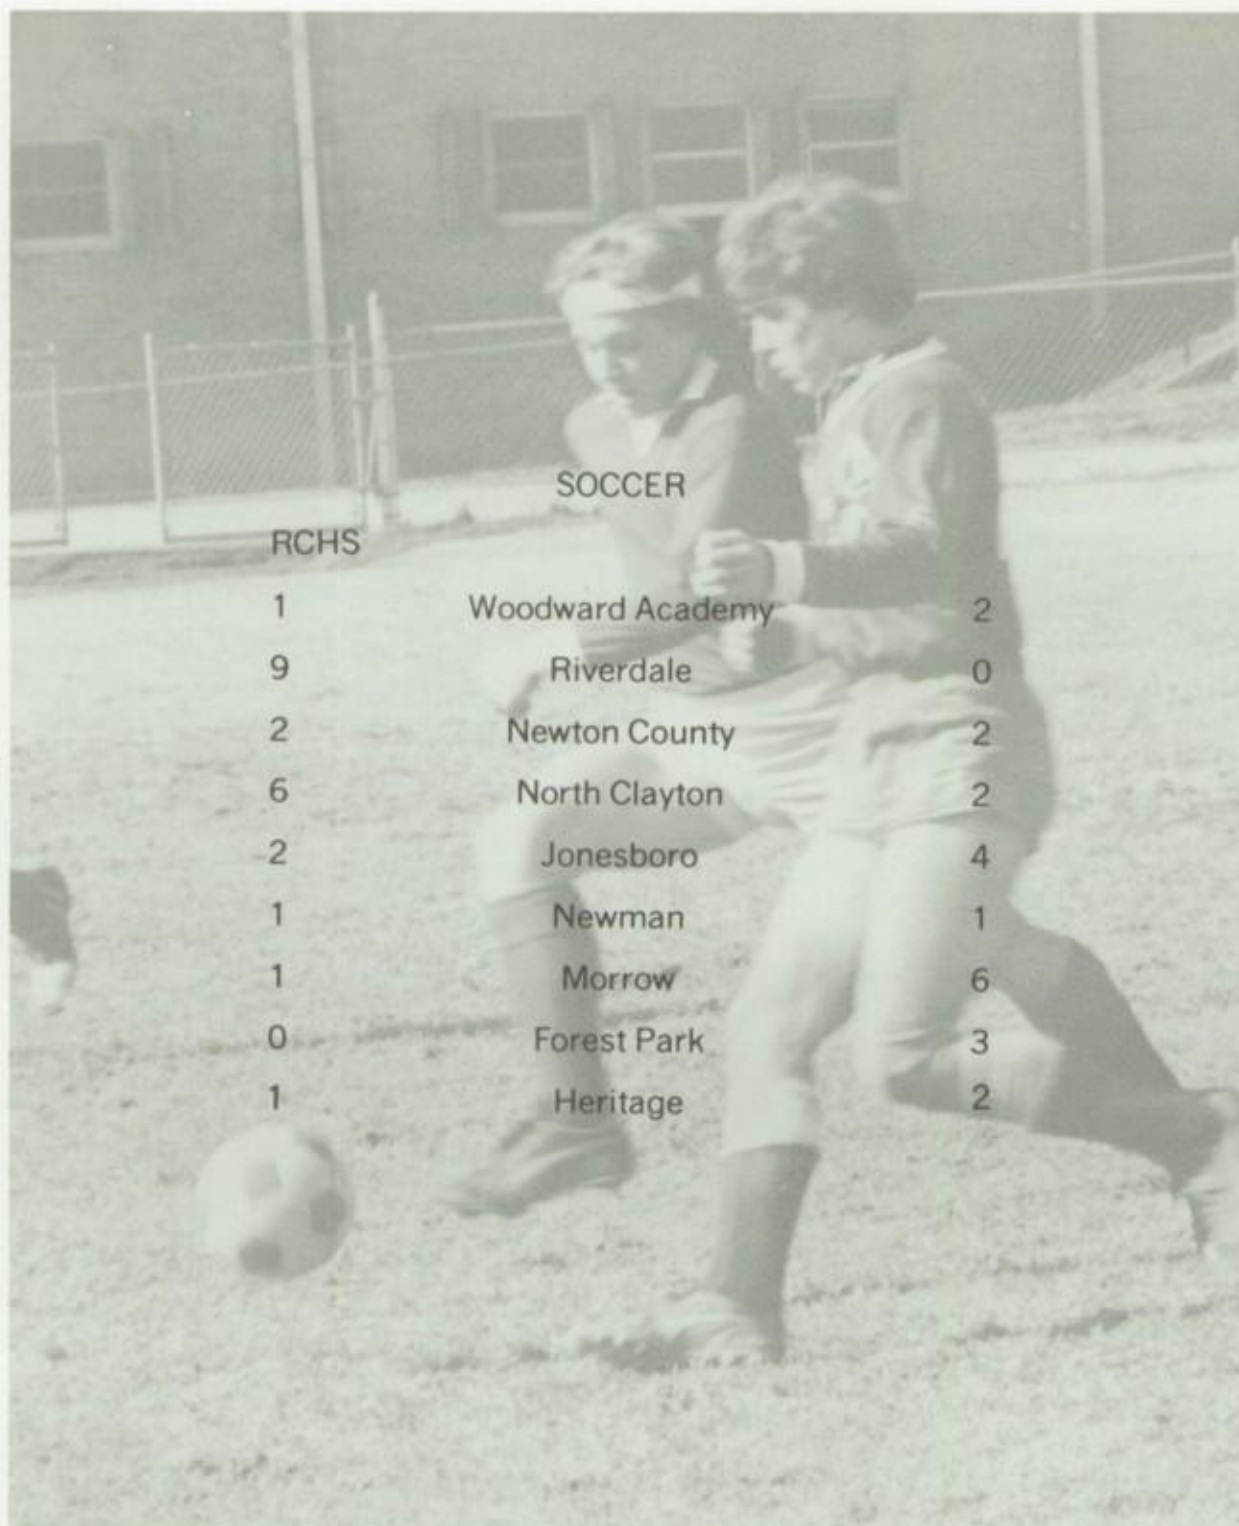

The cross country team went to many invitationals this year and showed up well in all of them. They traveled to West Georgia, East Point, and Winder Barrow for meets. They defeated North Clayton, Morrow, Jonesboro, and Newton. The region was held at the Atlanta Water Works. The team finished 5th. This year we had a girls' team also. Debbie Coleman won the region and went on to place 11th in the State. Deena Coleman finished 4th in the Region and showed well at the State. The team placed second in the Region — pretty good for a first-year team.

Team Has Good Second Year

The Rockdale County High GYMNASTICS TEAM had a good second year. Their activities included the Area Meet and a night on the town. The team members did everything from popping backs (by the team "physician") and breaking parallel bars, to tipping over balance beams and clobbering their coach. They even went so far as practicing in the school cafeteria or the county bus barn. In their second year, RCHS Gymnastics team really showed what a good job they could do.

Dogs Outscore Defensively In Region 6AAA

In their first regional game of the season, the Dogs tussled with the Bears from Griffin. The first half was a defensive battle and went scoreless. Griffin scored on a 57 yard run in the 3rd quarter and again on a 36 yard interception runback and defeated the Dogs 14-0.

The North Clayton Eagles dealt the Dogs a heavy blow. The Eagles scored first on a 24 yard run in the first quarter. In the 2nd quarter the Dogs lost the handle on the ball and the Eagles recovered in their end zone. It was 13-0. The Eagles scored once again before the half on a 21 yard run. They led 20-0 at the half and that was also the winning score.

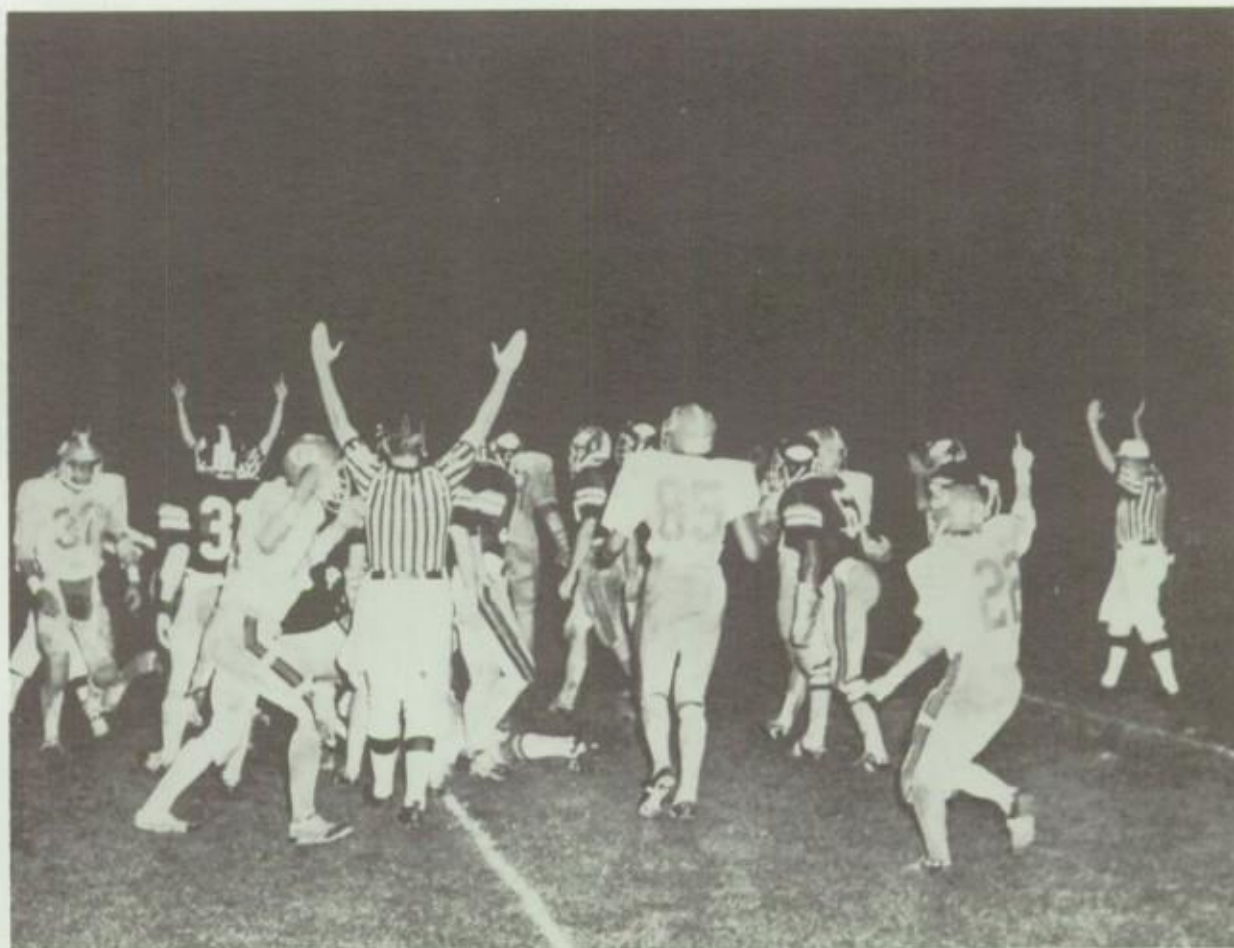

The Mustangs can consider themselves lucky because of a new rule in Georgia High School football. Morrow scored first on a 52 yard punt return, but the Dogs bit back on a one yard plunge by Plavcan. The game ended in a tie, but the Mustangs had penetrated 14 more yards and were awarded the win 8-7, after double-overtime.

The defensive team held tough in the game against Newton, and the Rams went off the field at halftime with a 7-0 lead, which they had picked up on a 21 yard run with 46 seconds left in the first quarter. In the 3rd Plavcan put the Dogs on the board with a one-yard run. But the rams put another 7 points on the board in the 4th and took the game 14-7.

The Homecoming game was a tough one. The Dogs scored first on a 40 yard run by Plavcan and led 7-0 at the half. The Grangers came back on an 11 yard run which made it 7-7. Walden put the Dogs ahead on a 30 yard field goal, but with 6:46 left in the game the Grangers connected with a 70 yard pass, and the Dogs were unable to answer and lost 13-10.

The Dogs and the Panthers lined up for a real battle. The game was back and forth the first half and remained scoreless. Forest Park scored with 2:26 left in the game and took the lead. The Dogs drove back, but fell short by four inches when the buzzer sounded. The Dogs were on the short end again 7-0.

The Dogs registered their first win against Jonesboro. It looked dim in the beginning when Jonesboro returned a fumble 31 yards for a touchdown. The Dogs soon turned things around on a 1 yard scamper by Plavcan. Jonesboro took the lead again before the half and led 14-7. Walden kicked a 17 yard field goal, Plavcan added a touchdown in the third and another in the fourth, on an 82 yard scamper to give the Dogs their first win 23-14.

After long hard weeks of tension and determination the Dogs put it all together and chalked up their second victory in as many weeks. The Dogs showed 4th ranked Newnan just what they were in for. Newnan was driving when Dan Alford knocked the ball loose, and Jeff Miller picked it up and ran it in for the score. Walden added the extra point and the great Dog defense held Newnan scoreless 7-0.

In the final game of the season against the R. E. Lee Rebels the Dogs looked tough. The Dogs scored first on a 3 yard run by Plavcan. Lee then drove 71 yards for 7 points. The extra point failed and the Dogs led at the half 7-6. The third quarter was scoreless, but Lee scored with only 1:43 left in the game and handed our Dogs another loss 13-7.

RCHS was the TEAM OF THE WEEK for defeating previously undefeated Newnan.

We had the NUMBER ONE scoring defense in Region 6AAA.

Team Is Worthy Opponent

Inclement weather was the main stumbling block for this year's soccer team. A total of three games was postponed, the North Clayton game being put off three times.

This year's team proved to be a worthy opponent for all they played, but lacked in one specific area — they had trouble scoring goals.

The opportunities occurred, but luck was against the Bulldogs as they failed to capitalize. A big win over Riverdale and a great victory over North Clayton were the highlights of the season. The Bulldogs were in every game, but the momentum seemed to be with the opposition.

Danny Fictor was the most valuable player for the Dogs as he controlled the middle field region. Charles Potts was the leading scorer and also instrumental to the Dogs' successes. Rick Willhoft was a talented player who took advantage of opposing teams, and Bruce Lovin, as goalie, was vastly improved over past seasons.

The outlook for RCHS soccer is solid. Four sophomores started for this edition of the Bulldogs, and Craig Dixon and Joe Pierce showed promise for next year.

Dogs Come Long Way

RGHS boys' basketball had been floundering for several years but this was to be their year. A spring and summer full of hard work caused the vast improvement of several players, who were to play key roles this year. The Dogs were going for the moon under the leadership of Cleveland Stroud, Captain Tim Roseberry and James Norman, co-captain. Rockdale was ready for the toughest region in the state, 6AAA.

Following an opening game loss to R. E. Lee in overtime, the Bulldogs came home to face Griffin. The game was a definite improvement over the first game, with the "opening game jitters" gone. The Dogs used their height to its full advantage over a short Griffin team. Junior Robert McGuire was the key to the game, scoring 28 points and controlling the boards. John "Bo Bo" Elliott ran the offense superbly. The only flaw in the game was a 33% free throw percentage. With the first home victory in two years, the Dogs were ready for anybody.

It has been said that the sign of a good team is to play badly and still win. Our Dogs classified themselves as a good team in their defeat of Morrow 55-45. Morrow came out in a four corners stall, but to no avail, as the Dogs led at the end of the first quarter 10-2. John Elliott again led the Dogs to this victory and Chris Shipp had an outstanding game. The final margin of victory was provided by made free shots, a big plus for the previously poor foul-shooting Dogs.

A big win against North Clayton sent the Dogs into the Newnan game with needed momentum. Newnan came out in a slowed down game, trying to make the Dogs' quickness work against them. Our Bulldogs controlled the game and led throughout. However, a last minute surge by Newnan brought them close but not quite. Dogs win 44-43.

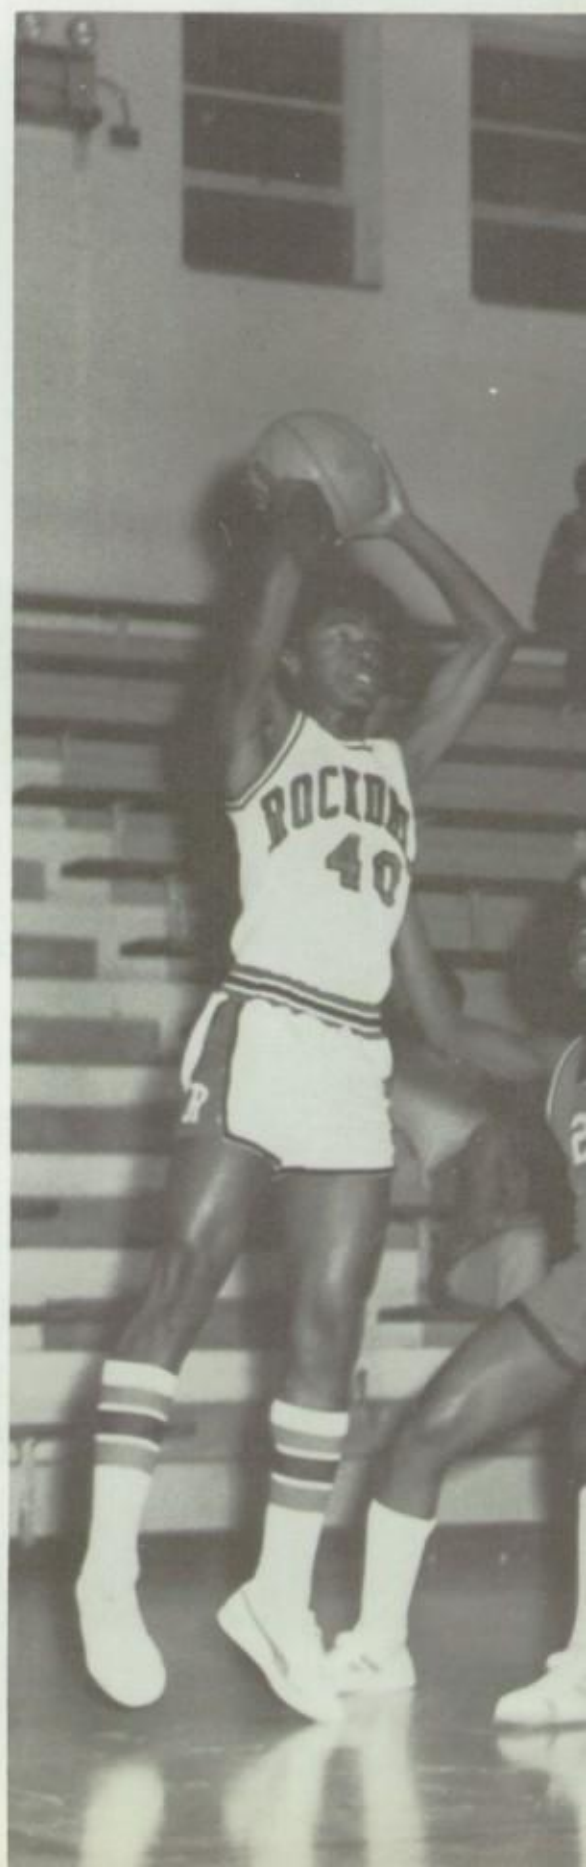

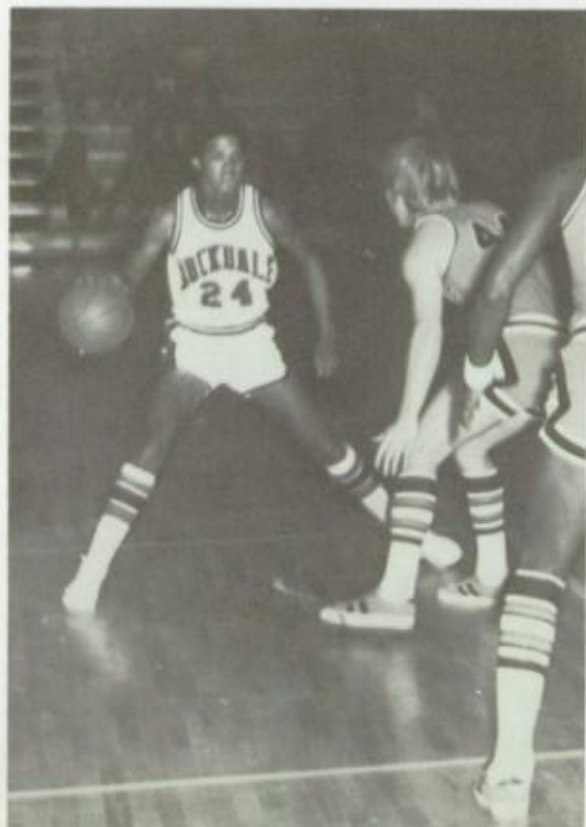

A close loss to LaGrange, the reigning state champions, buoyed the confidence of our Dogs as they realized they were as good as anybody in the region. However, in the next game against Forest Park, our Dogs were soundly defeated. The first quarter brought much agony as the Dogs were behind 22-8 at the end. The second and third quarters brought different results as the Dogs came back time and time again only to be repulsed by the running game and excellent shooting of the Panthers. Robert McGuire emerged in the fourth quarter, bringing the Dogs back into contention. His fifth foul, with four minutes left, put our Dogs into a hole from which they could not escape. RCHS 66-Forest Park 75.

Good defense won the Jonesboro game for the Bulldogs. The Dogs controlled the entire game and held leads of up to fifteen points. A lack of good ball handling and a fine Cardinal press brought Jonesboro back. Robert McGurie had an excellent game which included an impressive dunk. Tim Roseberry rebounded well in the final minutes which gave the Dogs a 70-68 victory.

A loss to Heritage and a win over Morrow sent the Dogs into the R. E. Lee game with a 6-5 record and third place in the sub-region. The Bulldogs controlled the entire contest. The Bulldogs proved that they could place respectably without McGuire, as he got into early foul trouble, but it did not affect the Dogs even against the 6'9" antics of Lee's Darrell Lockhart. A good defensive effort gave the Dogs a 67-57 victory.

A last place North Clayton team proved to be easy opposition for the Dogs. The key to the victory was the domination of the boards by McGuire, Shipp, and Roseberry. The game became a runaway and Coach Stroud was able to play all of his reserves as the Dogs won 64-57.

A big win over Newnan brought the Dogs to 10-5. A win over LaGrange would give the Dogs second place in the sub-region. A slow first half which lacked intensity on both sides ended up in a 23-23 tie. An outstanding effort in the second half enabled the Dogs to pull off an easy victory and second place in the sub-region. Captain Tim Roseberry was instrumental in this victory as he grabbed 20 rebounds. A questionable loss at Forest Park brought the Dogs back home to play arch-rival Newton County. The Rams jumped off to an early lead; but behind the shooting of Bo Bo Elliott and Robert McGuire, the Dogs pulled out to a 5 point lead at halftime. The second half was all Rockdale as the leads were stretched to as much as 12 points. The final run by Newton County came up short as Chris Shipp played with tremendous intensity and foul shots dropped. Final: Rockdale 68 — Newton 61.

The stage was set and the final curtain drawn. This was the climax of the season for both clubs as the newest rivalry in 6AAA was to unfold. The showdown between region leading Heritage and second place Bulldogs turned into a high scoring run and gun game. The Patriots took out to an early lead by 5 points at halftime. The Dogs came out on fire in the second half behind the front court strength of McGuire, Shipp and Roseberry to take command of the game, which was never in question. When the final buzzer sounded, the Bulldogs won 86-77, proving who was the best in Rockdale County Basketball.

Dogs Go For 4

Three region championships in the past three years left this year's Lady Bulldogs with a lot to live up to. With returning starters Suzanne Ferrell, Vera Shepperd, and Tammie Zachary, the RCHS team was looking forward to a great season. Expecting the strongest opposition ever from region 6AAA, the Bulldogs had the confidence, experience, and skill to go for four championships in a row.

After winning against R. E. Lee on November 29, the Rockdale girls came bursting with enthusiasm to play Griffin. Early in the second quarter, Rockdale was down by eight points, but by the fourth quarter, they were ahead. By capitalizing on foul shots, Rockdale won 58-53.

Again the Dogs were at the Rockdale gym. At this time, they were undefeated. Morrow jumped out into a lead, but their lead was cut. Going into halftime the score was 37-16. Both teams went out of control and Morrow won.

The fifth game for the Lady Bulldogs was against Newnan. They had beaten North Clayton, and their record stood at three wins and one loss. The girls started off well, shooting adequately and playing good defense in the first half. By the fourth quarter, the girls were playing poorly, but still won by a convincing 50-37.

The Dogs controlled the entire game against Forest Park. Tammy Zachary played a great game. The entire team played a well-rounded game, and the outcome was never in doubt. The second half proved to be the strong point for the Rockdale five as they took command and coasted to an easy win at 66-61.

The first game back after the Christmas holidays was against the Jonesboro Cardinals. After a win over Newton County, the girls seemed mighty confident. The dogs looked slow, but by halftime they were ahead. The game became very exciting when Jonesboro's coach was thrown out of the game. The dogs made a comeback, but it was too late. Jonesboro won 62-56.

The next two games were away and the Lady Bulldogs won both of them. R. E. Lee and the Dogs were tied at 6 each at the end of the first quarter. Midway in the third quarter, Coach Ballard changed his tactics by installing full court press. The Bulldogs stretched the lead by ten points and were never behind again.

After a loss to Griffin, the Lady Bulldogs came back to beat North Clayton 55-47. The Dogs had an easy time beating their opponents. They jumped to an early lead and maintained it throughout the entire game.

The Lady Bulldogs went away to Newnan for the next game and they won again. Blasting off to a score of 47-17 at halftime, the Dogs had an easy time beating LaGrange. Suzanne Ferrell led with twenty points. Coach Ballard said that it was the best game the team had played all year. The score ended with a victory of 72-52 for Rockdale.

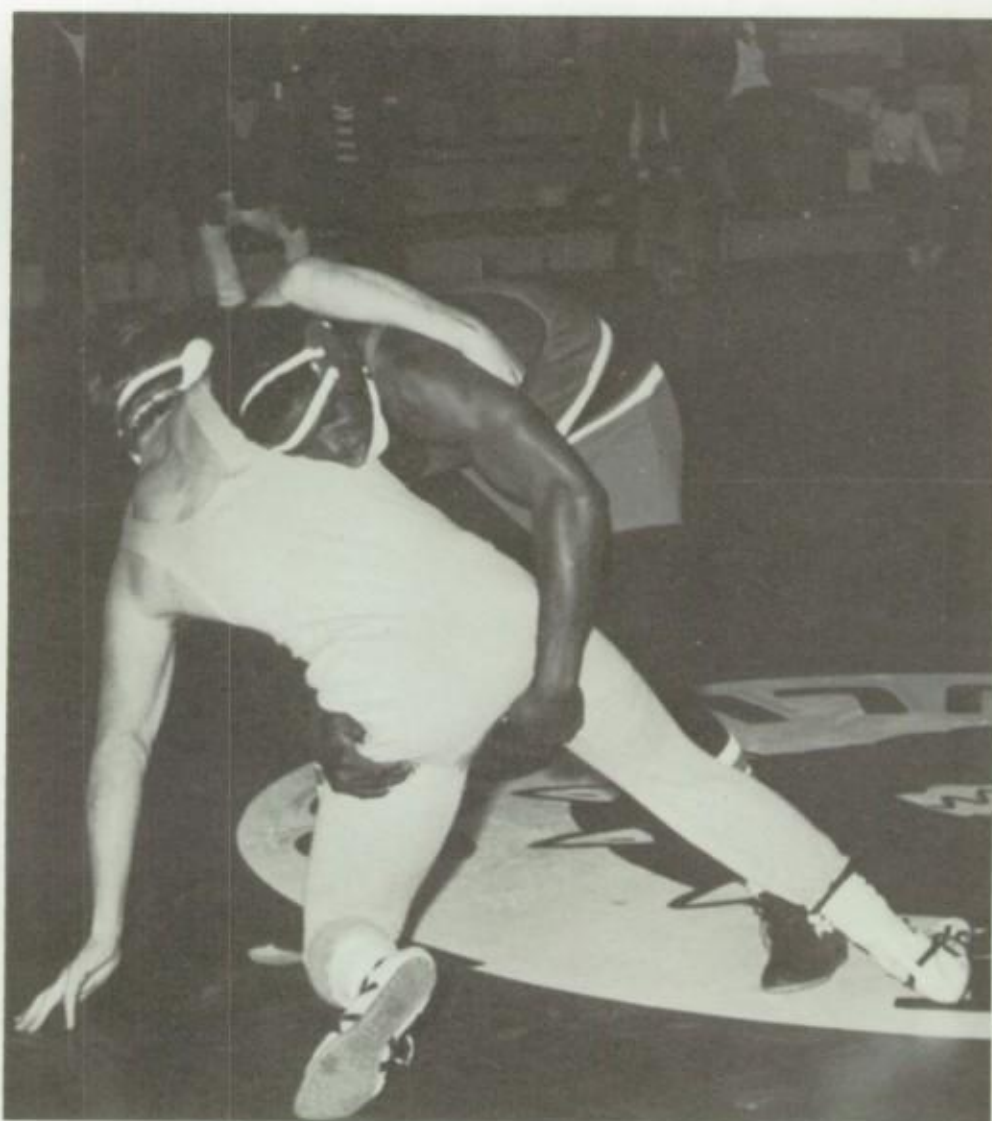

The Dogs' momentum ceased when Forest Park beat them. But the Dogs didn't stop as they came back and beat arch-rival Newton County 52-47. The Dogs played an exciting game, reeling off unanswered points.

After losing to Jonesboro, the Lady Bulldogs came back to play the Heritage Patriots. This was a very exciting game because of the rivalry between the schools. The Lady Bulldogs barely won by a 75-68 score. Coach Ballard said that he was especially proud of the second five that came off the bench and played, and that everyone on the team played their positions well.

Savages Take State With Record Score 125

The Rockdale Varsity wrestlers got off to a heart-breaking start when they met the Sprayberry Yellowjackets and fell to a 29-28 loss. The team was ranked first in the state prior to the match.

History was made at the RCHS Gym when the dogs met Forest Park and shut them out. It was the shortest and most unbelievable match with a final score of 72-0. Every wrestler won by a pin.

Sprague's Savages then traveled to Marist High School in Atlanta where they won 34-13.

The Avondale Blue Devils stepped into the Dogs' path after a long Christmas break. The Rockdale wrestlers kept up their hard practice during this time, and it showed when they won 30-16.

The Bulldogs had a double dual with Clarkston and Chamblee next on their schedule. They proved that they deserved to be ranked first by defeating Clarkston 40-13, and Chamblee 33-26. Our boys then traveled the long distance to Rome for the West Rome Invitational Tournament. We did well individually with four first place winners, three second place winners, and two third place winners. Our luck was good but not good enough when the team came in second overall. The following week we went to Towers High School for a dual meet and regained our status by defeating them 51-15, and then reassured ourselves by outscoring Southwest DeKalb 38-14.

The North Metro Tournament held at Northside High School turned out to be a disappointment. Our team placed second to Sprayberry. We did have three first place winners, two second places, and one fourth place. By this time everyone knew who Rockdale County was and that we meant business.

Our last two dual meets reassured us of our power. We met Briarcliff and shook them off 38-15. Then Tucker stepped in to add to our list of wins by losing 32-17 to our men.

The most important of all the matches and tournaments is still yet to come. We went to the Area Tournament with the intention of winning and moving on to bigger and better things, and that is exactly what we did. We took nine wrestlers to the state tournament, six of whom were first in the area.

Luck went our way at the Cobb County Civic Center. All of our wrestlers but one made it through the first round, starting us out with a good beginning for our team score. As each round progressed, our score rose. After the semi-finals Friday night, it was said that Rockdale had it all wrapped up. We had a score of 103.5, and our closest opponent was Clarkston with 70 points. Gene O'Kelley and Tony McDonald wrestled in the consolations for third and fourth places, Gene getting 3rd and Tony 4th. Our team set a new state record by having five people in the finals. Robert Thornton and Ricky Webb were State Champions, and Scott Dennis, John Plavcan, and Antonio Thornton were runners-up. Our final team score was 125, another record breaker. Congratulations to Coach Sprague and wrestlers for their terrific job.

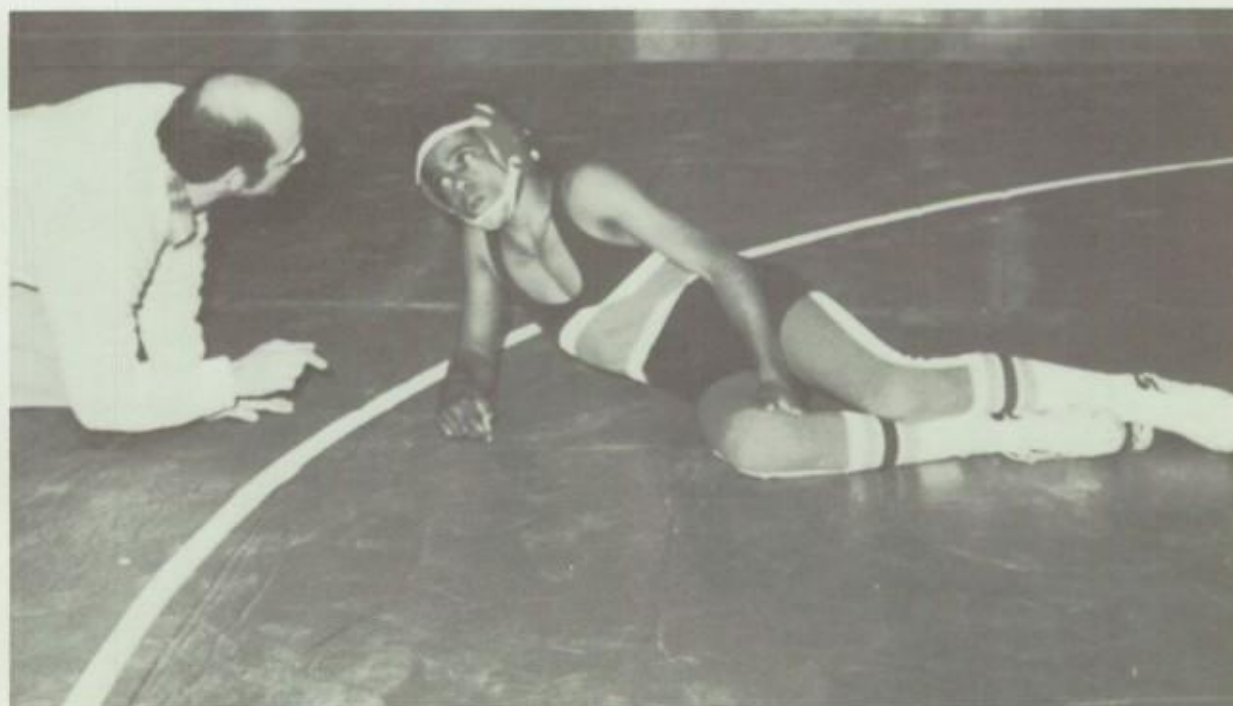

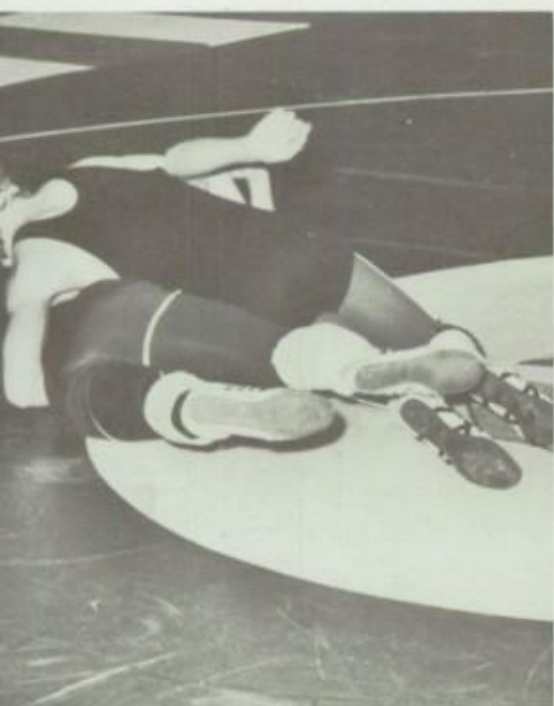

Junior Savages Do Well

Coach John White led his B-Team Wrestlers to a winning season this year. They were only defeated twice out of seven matches. He had many ninth graders to participate and is working them toward being superior varsity wrestlers in the years ahead.

Rockdale hosted a B-Team invitational Tournament here this year. Avondale won, but we ran a close second, trailing only by two points. There were ten teams entered in the tournament. Jimmy O'Kelley, a ninth grader, won first. We had five boys to come in second: Mitchell Anderson, Steve Christofferson, Nicky Jones, Norbert Williams, 2nd Scott Ellard. Chris Campbell received third place. Dace Giddens was a fourth-place winner.

The team also went to the North Metro B-Team Tournament, where they took third place. Two boys, Larry Wages and Steve Christofferson, were first-place winners; and Chris Campbell and Norbert Williams took second place. Over all it was a good year for the team.

Man — The Achiever

With so many minds constantly in motion, it is only natural for people with common interests to cluster together. Through such relationships, strangers become friends, the apathetic begin to see something worth caring about, and bonds of understanding are formed in a very unique way. When people attempt to fulfill themselves by group achievements, they see that working as part of a whole does indeed have points of great merit. And, from their good times as they work and laugh together, they learn that all accomplishments do not have to be made with great solemnity, but also with a smile between people who not only care about each other but who have worked as a unit to grasp one prize which belongs to all involved in the effort to win it.

Club Sponsors Workshop

Under the guidance of a dedicated sponsor, the ART CLUB represented RCHS with another year filled with activities. The club got off to a roaring start this year with many of the members working on a committee to decorate the gym for the Homecoming dance. December caught many of the Art Club members either spreading paint on McDonald's windows or spreading cheer to the young children who attended the first attempt at a Christmas Workshop. Spring unfolded on the Art Festival that happened, along with face painting and portrait drawing, during Art Week.

Members Conduct Seminar

Members of the DECA club served the school and the community this year with Mrs. King right behind them, pushing hard all the way. Along with running the school store all year and selling mums at Homecoming, the club gave an Anti-Shoplifting seminar for area merchants and participated in National DECA week.

Students Tour France

As has become their custom, the FRENCH CLUB really made its mark on RCHS. So much has become traditional: floats which show more than a little work, elegant Christmas bashes, a super Christmas basket for a needy family, zany hijinks during French Week, and, to top it all off, a super-expensive (but more-than-worth-it) French dinner for advanced students. Hopefully a new tradition was established last summer, when Mrs. McDevitt took a group of students to France — just to make sure it really exists.

Club Overcomes Many Obstacles

The main objective of the SPANISH CLUB was to spread Spanish culture throughout the school. It was accomplished through a tremendous Spanish Week. The club did have its little hills to overcome. Only $24 in the treasury (maybe the Student Council will take us as a fund-raising project), changing teachers in the middle of the year (A semester exam? Over what?), the low membership numbers, (Oh well, we want quality, not quantity); they overcame all of this to interest the school in Spanish and make the year muy interesante.

They Believe In Togetherness

Bimonthly the Sardines file into room 305 for their FCA meetings. (They'd call you a sardine too if you tried to squeeze into that room on a Wednesday morning.) The 64 members of the FCA really believe in togetherness. (Maybe that's why their first name is Fellowship.) It's really great that all those athletes can get together for fellowship and not even argue about who's the biggest or baddest athlete; maybe that shows what Christianity is all about.

Betas Frightened By Giant Spuds

Several BETA CLUB members wound up black and blue after stiff competition within the club to get rid of innumerable cases of kazoos and M & M's — both plain and peanut. As Mrs. Weil supervised the sales, the students were also busy tutoring children at Plantation Manor (when they could get past the receptionist); arranging a Thanksgiving dinner for a needy family (wasn't thirteen cans of creamed corn pushing it just a little bit?); and painstakingly trying to compile a new literary magazine for RCHS, Metamorphosis (did you hear what Mike was offering to contributors of articles?). Amidst the chaotic activity, they also attended the 1978 Georgia Beta Club Convention, once again at the Marriott, with Mrs. Weil packing a .357 Magnum to insure prompt and efficient room assignments. A nagging fear of contracting Legionnaire's Disease after the dinner at Bonanza (where many were intimidated by the size of their potato) was the only low spot in a year that was sometimes maddeningly frantic, but always constructive.

Cosmetologists Get Valuable Experience

The VICA COSMETOLOGY club has been very busy this year. One of their projects is working after school on Thursdays doing hair. They have had numerous activities to help raise money, including a car wash (which should have been called a people wash), a garage sale, (which provided a lot of money until someone sold the money box), and a bake sale. The group worked hard on a booth exhibit for the county fair and received sixth place.

Club Promotes Leadership

VICA is a club to help prepare young people for careers in trade, industry, health occupations and technical areas. The members take part in activities that offer personal development in citizenship and leadership. Students learn respect and dignity for their work, high standards in trade ethics, and the development of patriotism toward the free enterprise system. Mr. Kellar, the sponsor, has shown VICA members the way to a successful career through his devoted leadership and guidance.

When The Going Gets Tough, The Tough Get Going

The MCJROTC at Rockdale really lived up to this slogan. They were responsible for cleaning the stadium. (Especially in the rain, like after Homecoming.) The drill team got going when they beat the Golden Boots of Central Macon (now called the Bronze Tennis Shoes) by 8 points in Augusta. The going was also tough during Rockdale's Rifle team competition with Heritage when the Rifles edged by the Patriots by 20 points. As a matter of fact, all of the MCJROTC units live up to this slogan, that's why they have such a good reputation.

to a very nice boy
Love you

Club Enjoys Six Flags

This year, as usual, the VOCA club was involved in non-stop activity. They held two fund-raisers, sponsored school and community projects; and participated in local, region, and state competitive activities. A trip to Six Flags rounded out a year that was chock-full of hustle and bustle.

OFFICERS: President, Robert Finch; Vice President, Greg Sargent; Secretary, Rhonda Olds; Reporter, Troy Roberts; Parliamentarian, Guy Parker

Girls Enjoy Skating Party

The members of the FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA CLUB have been trying to help youth assume their roles in society through Home Economics Education, (without getting them too fat). They started off the year with a Pot Luck Dinner in honor of the newly-elected officers and new members. For Christmas everyone had a lesson in grace and balance at the Ice Skating Party, which turned out to be a lot of fun. Work time came again and the girls entered a booth at the county fair entitled "Stop Teenage Pregnancy." Their efforts won them first place.

Hard Work Pays Off

Before the year began, the DRAMA CLUB was already busy planning its many activities for the upcoming year. ("Now I've got the Doritos, who brought the cokes?") With the meetings every first Wednesday after the third moon passes through Venus — or is it each weekend of the annual Easter Parade? — a peaceful regularity was insured. ("No pass? Throw 'em out, Victor!") With a great amount of hard work (What? Run it again?") and a large amount of pride, the Drama Club presented the annual Spring Musical and sponsored a play night, featuring three student-directed plays and the competition play, which placed first in the Region and second in State.

The club accomplished all this by the efforts and determination of the group and the club's sponsor-director, Linda Wise. Her tireless (and constant) push produced the very professional-looking plays. A fun and frolicking dinner-theater trip highlighted the club's year.

OFFICERS: President, Mark McCullough, Vice President, Victor Smith; Secretary, Spring Mason; Treasurer, Heather Heath

Musical Captures Audience's Hearts

As the lights dimmed, the curtain rose on a Siamese Palace equipped with an eccentric king, a very proper English school teacher, and an assortment of wives, children, "etc., etc., etc." All fell into the elaborate production of the 1977 spring musical — THE KING AND I. The Rogers and Hammerstein classic had something for everyone:

comedy, romance, drama, and half the cast in sleazy outfits (so much for school morals), but seriously folks . . . the innocent humor of the king, the stubbornness of "Mrs. Anna," and the respect they held for each other gave the play a genuine warmth that captured the hearts of the audience.

Students Learn About Health Careers

Thanks to the clever workmanship of the members of ALLIED MEDICAL, teachers caught in a frenzy did not have to succumb to a spasmodic fit. Early in the year, padded tongue blades ("open in case of emergency") were distributed to each faculty member. Yet, even this magnanimous feat was not the highlight of the club's activities. They won 2nd prize in the Fair Booth Competition at the American Legion Fair, assisted with the Special Olympics physicals, planned and purchased a Thanksgiving dinner for a needy family, and made decorations for the doors of Rockdale Hospital at Christmas time. The club offers constructive guidance, providing opportunities for the students to learn more about health-related careers.

A Spirit Of Sharing And Caring

REACH OUT is for students who do just that — reach out. As one of the few religiously oriented clubs at Rockdale, Reach Out has attracted the more religious-minded students to its ranks. Interesting speakers, such as a singing youth minister, (what is this about a dead skunk?), and a former football player, gave members a chance to discuss feelings about God and themselves. A spirit of sharing and caring was developed with the creation of Love Partners.

LEADERS: Mike Thomas, Amanda Major, Lisa Miller, Becky Young, Steve Sheriffs

Supersalesmen

The FBLA members are definitely some of the busiest kids in the school. They are always trying to con you into buying something. First, they walked around carrying big boxes full of odds and ends and called it a Tom Watt Sale. Next came the M&M troops (that just killed the lunchroom's business!) They helped a needy family at Thanksgiving by giving them canned food goods, and at Christmas had a covered dish supper and party. They attended the Region four contests and the State Leadership Convention.

OFFICERS: President, Cindy Kelley; Vice President, Delaine Harp; Secretary, Kay Crowell; Treasurer, Doug Ellis

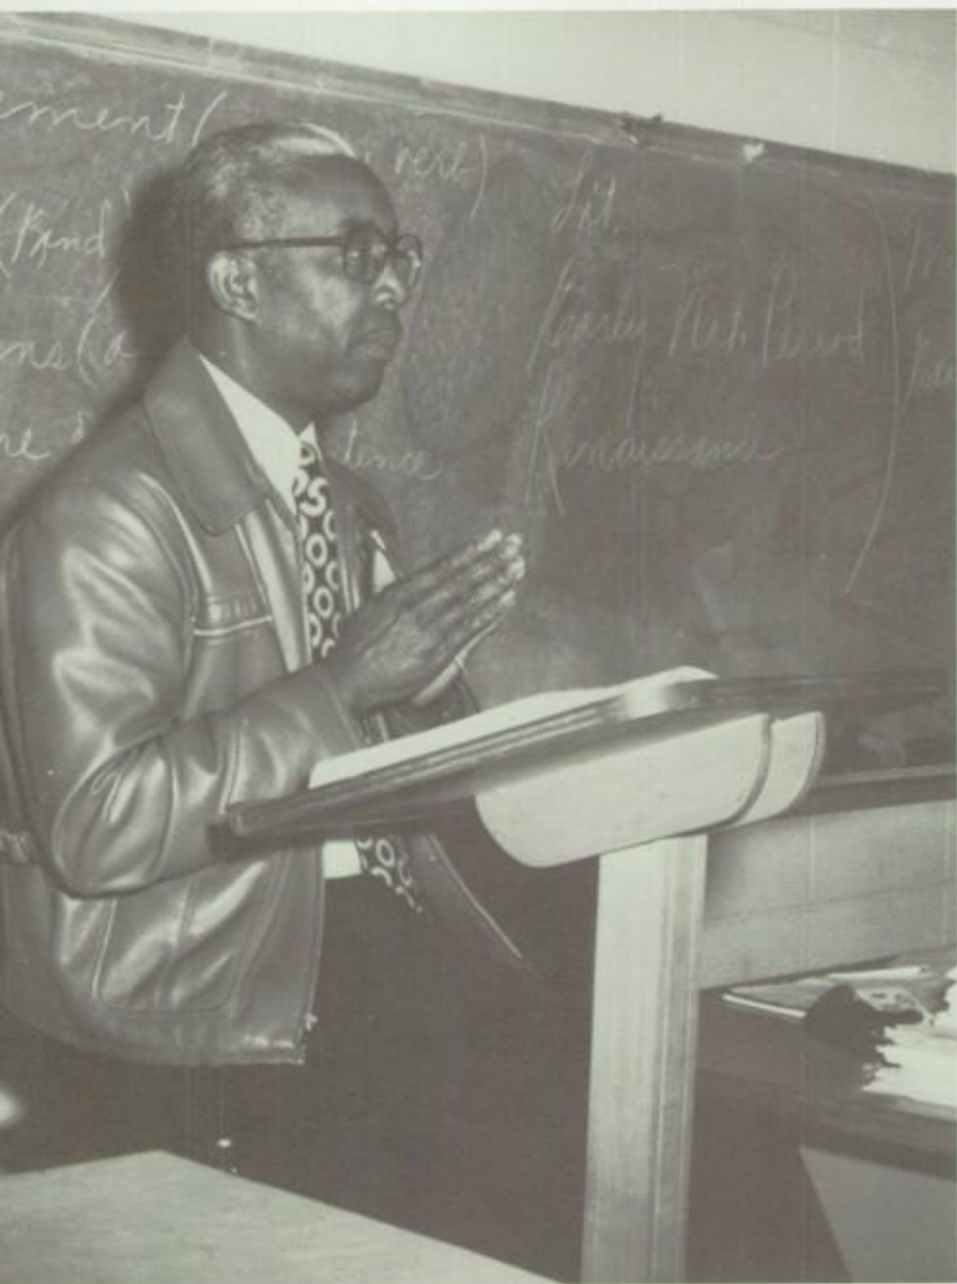

Club Collects Toys For Tots

The KEY CLUB was busy this year doing a variety of service projects, from inspiring the student body to bring food for the Thanksgiving food drive to collecting toys for tots, (unfortunately, some club members were reluctant to give them up). They have also helped the Kiwanis Club with some of their community projects. To say the least, the Key Club has been an example to follow by showing school spirit to our community while still having a ball at club meetings.

OFFICERS: President, Dan Alford; Vice President, Allen Thrift; Secretary-Treasurer, Jeff Reagan

Club Adopts Family

Between turkeys for Thanksgiving (you can cut the beaks, Steve) and Valentines for teachers in February, CO-ED-Y contributed a lot to keeping things pretty lively around RCHS. They also cleaned up all around Conyers, trick-or-treated for World Service, adopted a family for Christmas, and sponsored Special Olympics, all under the guidance of Mrs. Goodman and Mr. McCaskill. This year's Co-Ed-Y basketball teams had a very successful season, as did the entire club.

Potts; School Projects Chairman, Carol Atkins; Community Projects Chairman, Lissette Cromer; Chaplain, Deliane Harp

A Smashing Success

Once again PLAY NIGHT, presented by the RCHS Drama Club, was a smashing success. The montage of plays consisted of "An Overpraised Season," a thespian effort to convince the older generation that the youth of today is not going to Hell, "Beginnings," a modern look at The Beginning, and "Vanities," a vibrant, vivacious view of the epitome of cheerleaderhood, all of which were student-directed. The evening was climaxed by the 2nd place one-act play, "The Me Nobody Knows," directed by Linda Wise. This play centered around the lives of eleven ghetto children, their hopes and fears and can be best summed up in their cry: "Out on the outside, that's where I've been/Out on the outside, let me come in."

Fun In The Dark

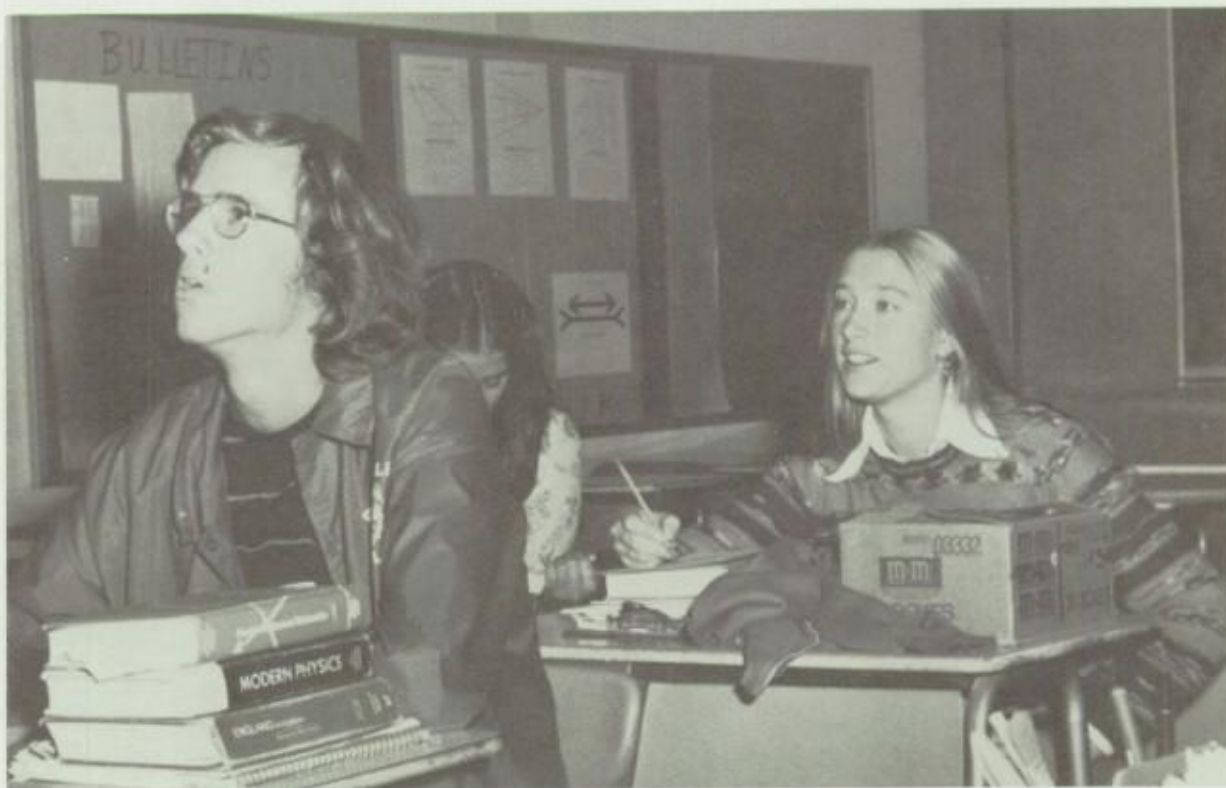

The PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB was formed by a group of students who share an interest in all aspects of taking pictures. Most of the members were a part of an independent study group which was able to take pictures and develop them during class. Strange goings-on took place in Mrs. Weil's back room (also known as the darkroom, for obvious reasons), resulting in several members' smelling strongly of developing chemicals. Even though not all of the pictures were masterpieces (or anything even close), the newly-found skills and the gradual improvement more than made up for the failures.

Math Students Share Interests

MU ALPHA THETA (also known as the Math Club) may not have been the best-known club at RCHS, but it was important nonetheless. Made up of students with at least a "B" average in advanced math courses, it tutored students and went to tournaments. (Yes, people actually competed against each other in math!) Although members were not easy to assemble, those who did participate benefited from being with others sharing their interests.

Council Keeps Busy

This year's STUDENT COUNCIL, under the watchful eyes of Mrs. King and Mrs. Chandler, were very busy. They sold countless numbers of Poo-Paws (giving the cheerleaders trouble when they sold Turtles) to raise enough money for the Homecoming. After a week of activities culminated by a V.W. push tug-o-war, and finally a bonfire on Thursday, they danced their way to the music of Bone Holmes and Friends on Friday. Then in 1978, the Student Council really rolled with Career Day in January, the Valentine's Dance in February, and Teacher Appreciation Week in March.

OFFICERS: President, Cheryl Mays; Vice-President, Patricia Little; Secretary, Sharon Swearingen; Parliamentarian, Laura Mims.

Club Has Halloween Party

Co-sponsored this year by Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Gissendanner, KAPPA BETA was busy having a lot of fun while participating in projects to help the school and the community. They went trick-or-treating for World Services (don't scare me like that, Sharon) and had a party for the Sheltering Arms Nursery on Halloween. They collected canned goods for a needy family at Thanksgiving. In January, they held a bake sale. They sold carnations for Valentine's Day, and in March, they put on their hiking boots to take part in the 20 mile trek in the Muscular Dystrophy Walk-a-thon.

OFFICERS: President, Sharon Swearingen; Vice President, Brenda Chupp; Secretary, Mandy Madray; Treasurer, Angela Jordan; Chaplain, Cherry Conway

Man — The Paradox

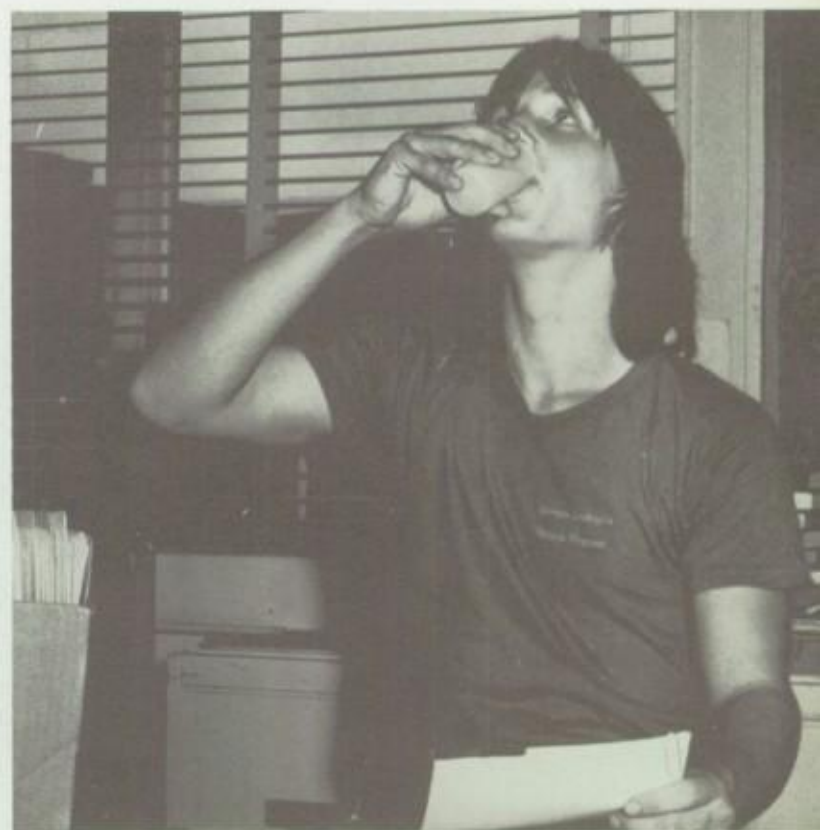

At the start of the '77-'78 school year, a group of quite assorted individuals were assembled and told of the great trials that lay, inevitably, in front of them. Included in the lecture were slightly nasal warnings of a great wrath that would fall (also inevitably) upon each of their heads if, by some vague chance, they should even THINK of not applying themselves wholeheartedly to one objective: the building of the '78 year-book.

Working frantically at times (and occasionally sharpening their imaginations by creating ingenious ways to look busy), they managed, though not without much wear and tear on their nerves and psyches, to produce yet another volume of the infamous TEMPUS FUGIT. They carry with them memories of translucent orange technicropers and pale yellow wax pencils; will remember always the distinction between "good graffiti" and "low-class graffiti"; and will be haunted, probably for years by a voice they became incredibly familiar with "innocently" asking, "What'cha DOin . . .?"

Strong Bonds Hold True

Feeling good about yourself — that's what the MINORITIES CLUB is all about, and its members did just that this year as they skated at Duvall's and spread happiness among the folks at Westbury Nursing Home with fruit baskets. Their strong bonds and hard work made their presence felt, both in our school and our community.

Assembly Highlights Week

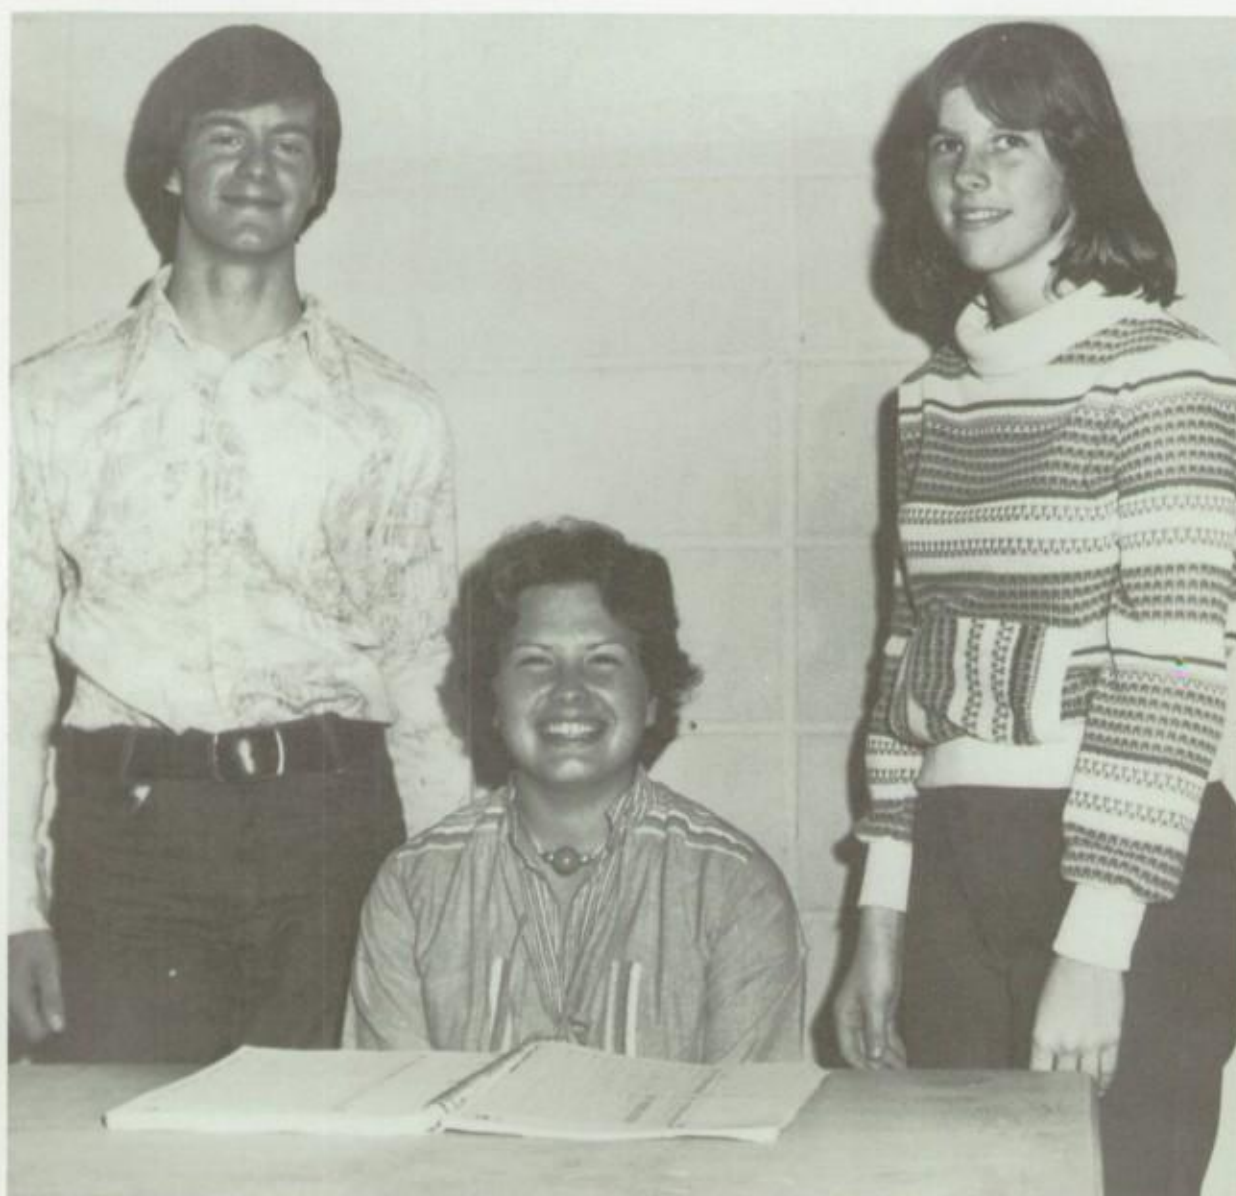

BLACK HISTORY WEEK was celebrated at RCHS this year with a biographical sketch read over the P.A. system each morning, along with posters and signs. It was highlighted by an assembly in the gym on Friday. The assembly, which was sponsored by the Minorities Club, was laced with speeches and included the crowning of Miss Ebony.

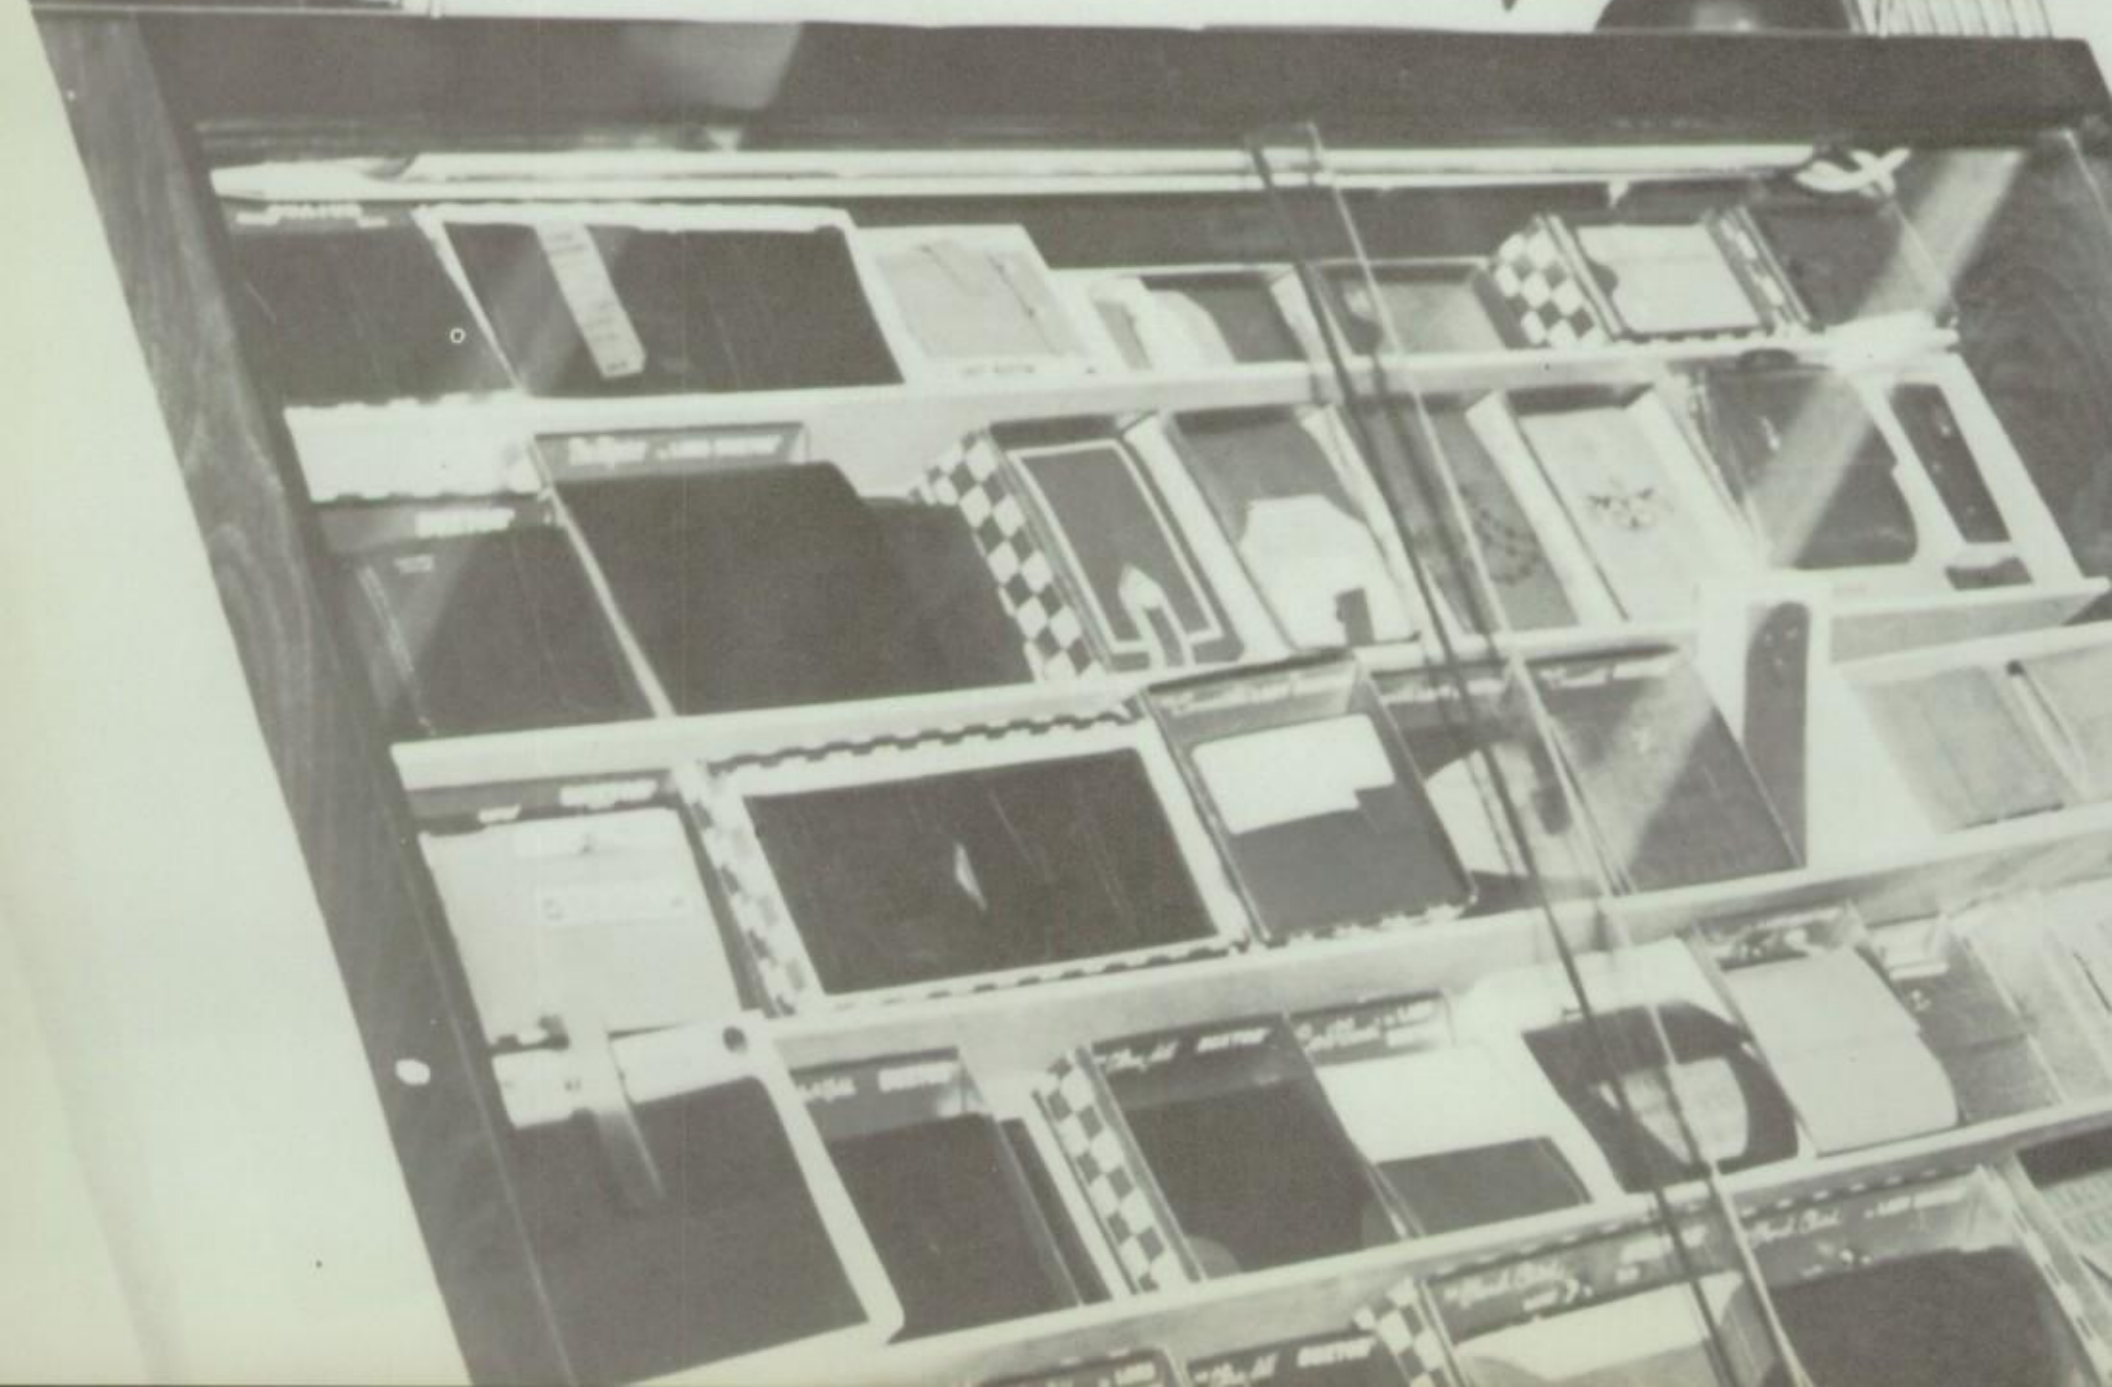

Band Faces Changes

The BAND had a rather unusual year in that they were under the leadership of two band directors. Mr. Bob Williams was at the helm before Christmas; and when students returned from the holidays, Mr. Conrad Leo had taken the reins. They still managed to march at football halftimes and in the Homecoming parade. The pep band added a lot of enthusiasm to pep rallies and basketball games. All the members looked forward to playing in the DeKalb College Concert Festival. It was a year of accomplishment in the face of change. OFFICERS: President, Kelly Brannon; Vice-President, David Lasley; Secretary-Treasurer, Lori Keller.

Man — The Beneficiary

Innumerable aspirations are attained by individuals solely through their own efforts, but support from others is vital to insure success in many endeavors that otherwise would have been futile. The yearbook staff can always count on the aid of our friends and family, but it is the help of the community itself which is sometimes the most needed — and the most evasive. To the local businesses and industries which did decide to advertise with the '78 Tempus Fugit, we would like to voice the recognition that their investment did more than merely purchase a promotion of their own financial interests, but was also an expression of their good will and encouragement. The publication of this yearbook would have been a sheer impossibility had it not been for their assistance; and for this assistance we are grateful.

The first stage of Warren/Sherer's commitment to the food industry:

Four new plants in the past three years.

In 1971 Kysor Industrial Corporation committed to hundreds of thousands of square feet in new production capabilities to meet the growing needs of air conditioning and refrigeration requirements. Now, three years later, the multi-million dollar commitment is satisfied, the last of four new manufacturing facilities is completed, the ten-acre Conyers, Georgia plant. To us this means greater capacity to satisfy the requirements of the food industry. To our customers it means new innovations in refrigeration equipment and display cases and improved service.

The exploration of the humanity of man should be a constant, conscious effort within all of us, especially during the last years of school, for in no other period of our lives will we change in as drastic a manner. Voices mature and lose the last traces of a child's speech; skin problems mar the once smooth complexions of those entering adolescence; and the realization first comes to mind that "going outside to play" is a thing of the past. Memories of years that seemed to soon ago take on a quality not unlike that of a fine, but obsolete, antique. What is it — why is it — that these years, including the one chronicled here, have such a fragile bittersweet quality about them, an aura that makes the passage of each day slightly sharp, not unlike a delicate prick with a thin silver needle?

 will the end of another year is at hand and even thought we had good times and good times but more good times I would still say we were pretty good friends and I hope we stay good friends and never fuss or fight again? I remember Cathy in our 4th period biology class? Boy she had a big mouth, but don't we all? Well best of luck and wishes?
